

Introduction to Dressage for Every Discipline

With Martin Courtney

The basis of the clinic is to inform and show riders how dressage techniques can improve their riding and communication with their horse. The word 'dressage' really means "training". It's not all about circles and letters but creating exercises utilizing the arena to your best advantage. Defining clear, soft aids whether legs, hands, seat or position in the saddle is always the goal. No matter what style we ride, horses need to go forward, back and move their shoulders and hindquarters when asked. Marty can provide some suggestions to help achieve these goals.

Whatever your need might be with your own horse, come to the arena and explore the world of dressage! Marty is happy to assist you with your individual issues. Whether English, Dressage or Western, riding is riding. We all want to help our horses to perform to their best ability.

Sunday, April 12, 2015 10am -12 pm at the LBHA Arena

FREE for LBHA members. $15 for Non-Members (membership included)

Auditors are welcome

Please RSVP to equuspassage@aol.com or 916-719-6265

You may preview information on Marty at MCDressage.shutterfly.com